

Meteorite Possibly Worth $500 Bought For $7 By Dealer

VENDOR IS 92 YEARS OLD AND KEEPS HOUSE FOR HERSELF

PLEASED WITH SALE

What is believed to be a meteorite, variously estimated at from 300 to 450 pounds in weight, was purchased this week by Wesley Squires, antique and curio dealer, Main St., from Mrs. Elsie Mann, Queen St., for $7.

The stone has lain in Mrs. Mann's yard for 17 years, since she came here from Keswick. It cost her $1 to bring it from Keswick at that time, and she feels that she has done not too badly to make a profit of $6 on it.

Mr. Squires has the stone in his window for all who will to see. He values the stone at $500. Elman Campbell, formerly a chemical engineer, said that if the stone is genuine it should be worth $400 or $500, provided a purchaser can be found.

"Meteorites have no intrinsic value," Mr. Campbell told The Era. "They are of value only to universities and museums as specimens."

To Mrs. Mann, The Era went to learn of the genuineness of the meteorite. In her mind there is no doubt of it. Mr. Campbell said that it would be easy for an expert to determine whether the stone is a meteorite or not.

Mrs. Mann is past 92 years old. Born at Belhaven, the daughter of Hannah Bennett and Luther Draper, Mrs. Mann came to Newmarket 17 years ago. Her husband died shortly afterward. Mrs. Mann now lives all alone and keeps house for herself, although she has almost lost the use of her legs.

"The late Wm. Mann, a first cousin of my husband's, gave me that stone," Mrs. Mann told The Era. "He showed me the elm tree on his father's farm on the fourth concession, adjoining the Fred VanNorman farm, which the meteorite split open in falling."

"He gave the stone to me ten or 15 years before we left Keswick. A part of the stone was left on the farm where it fell. I was never able to obtain it."

Asked if anyone had ever tried to buy the stone from her before, Mrs. Mann said that Mrs. O. B. Sheppard had once tried to secure it for Sharon temple.

DEVELOPMENT TOWARD STATE CONTROLLED
BUSINESS SEEN

CO-OPERATIVES GROW

Whether it is the North American continent drifting or driving? Has a reaction set in? Is the movement now away from public ownership, co-operation and social control? If not, how far will "socialization" of the state go?

What do independent students of economic problems think? These questions were put to Professor C. E. Dankert of Dartmouth College, Hanover, N. H., at Sharon on Saturday. Prof. Dankert's former home, by a coincidence, was at Hanover, Ontario. Mrs. Dankert is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Brown, Sharon, and was formerly a secretary with the National Council of the Y.M.C.A.

Mr. and Mrs. Dankert, and their two children, a boy of three and a half years and a daughter of three months are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Brown.

"The so-called capitalistic system is being socialized to an ever-increasing extent," said Prof. Dankert. "In part it is due to a changing attitude towards the function of the state itself. During the nineteenth century the state was looked upon as a sort of policeman which kept peace in the family. The function of government was largely negative in nature, saying that this shall not be done and that shall not be done."

"The state has become positive. It is doing positive things. This is very definite in the United States. It is also a trend here in Canada. The Canadian federal government and the provincial governments are undertaking more and more in the way of regulation."

"Outstanding examples of positive states are the so-called totalitarian states. Russia, Germany and Italy are examples."

"In the United States the government, as it has intervened more and more, has aroused a great deal of opposition on the part of private business. There has been quite a bit of friction and harsh criticism aimed at the government by the private business man."

"Has the increase in the functions of government in the U. S. brought about a tremendous increase in the political power of the party in office?"

"It does increase the power of the government and can be used for undesirable purposes," said Prof. Dankert. "That is a criticism that is made. That is a problem. The more the state undertakes, the greater is the danger of politics. The principal cure is to have capable and honest men in office."

"Close scrutiny of public works contracts by Secretary Ickes has slowed up the program in such a way as to fail to bring about the expected revival in business."

"Over in the United States billions have been spent on public construction. While the total sum seems tremendous, the effectiveness of public works as a device for stimulating recovery has been reduced because the money wasn't spent fast enough."

"The process is sometimes referred to as pump-priming. You can't prime a pump if you don't feed the water in fast enough. Partly because the program wasn't ready the money was spent rather slowly, and the stimulus to business was therefore not great."

"While the expenditure of these immense sums have not brought about the desired result, there are real assets to show for them. There are fine schools and bridges, excellent roads and community halls."

"Since private enterprise hasn't been strongly stimulated, and since the public debt has been rapidly increasing, business men have been rather pessimistic about the future. They have held back from large capital expenditures. They don't want to undertake too much. They have adopted a policy of great caution."

"There is a good lesson there so far as Canada is concerned. If the government here is going to undertake public construction as a device for stimulating business recovery, the amount (Page 8, Col. 5)

The reunion committee jinxed dance on the outdoor floor at the fair grounds on Thursday evening attracted a nice crowd but was not a big financial success. After all expenses are paid, there will be little if any profit, according to the committee.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS

In order to facilitate staff holidays an arrangement has been made between The Era and the Newmarket Express-Herald that the latter will not publish a newspaper the week of July 27 but will instead send its subscribers a copy of The Era, and that The Era will not publish a newspaper the week of Aug. 3 but will instead send its subscribers a copy of the Express-Herald.

The co-operation and good-will of subscribers is requested. It is hoped that each newspaper will be able to obtain in turn sufficient extra advertising revenue to partly compensate for the one week's advertising that will be lost.

If correspondents or subscribers have important notices which they wish published the week of Aug. 3 they are advised to send them to the Express-Herald. Our office and printing-shop will be open as usual.

Websterettes Trim Maple Girls By Seven Run Edge

GIRLS' SOFTBALL TEAM CONTINUES WINNING
WAYS WITH 13-5 TOTAL

Alex Webster's lassies continue to lead the way in the district girls' softball struggle, as a result of their 13-5 victory over the Maple team in Newmarket on Monday night.

The Newmarket girls got off to an early start, and by the time the first inning had finished, Vera Beckett Moss Doane, Lucy Andrews, Lois Manning and Marjorie McCarman had crossed home plate.

They were followed by Moss Doane and Lois Manning, who tallied in the second to give Newmarket a 7-0 lead. The Manning effort was a homer.

Jean Miller, Sally McNeil, and Bertha Quinton brought Maple on the score board in the third, but hopes of a higher score were blasted by a beautiful double play, Brown to Beckett to Doane, that proved to be one of the highlights of the game.

Jean Parks, of Maple, turned in a run for her side in the fourth, to which Newmarket replied with runs by Vera Beckett and Margaret Hissey, which put Newmarket in a 13-4 position. The only other score of the game was by Maple in the sixth, Ruth Smith getting the credit.

Fine catches by Dorothy Watson and Margaret Hissey featured the last half of the game. Marjorie McCarman pitched well to Margaret Hissey behind the plate and was credited with six strikeouts and three walks.

Buffalo Bill's Grandad Once Owned St. Andrew's Land

CODY CLAN FROM ALL PARTS OF CANADA AND
U.S. CONVENES HERE

The annual reunion of the Cody Family Association of North America, to be held at Newmarket on Monday and Tuesday, Aug. 28 and 29, will bring together, as have reunions of this organization since its inception, Canadians and Americans from widely separated sections of this continent. All are direct descendants of Philip Le Cody, a French Huguenot, who, evidently suffering persecution in France, left for America and established himself in what is the state of Massachusetts today, around the year 1698.

It may come as a surprise to many that the father of an outstanding member of the Cody family, the late Col. William Cody, the famous "Buffalo Bill" plainsman, Indian fighter and showman, was born in Canada and spent the first 18 years of his life in this country. The father of "Buffalo Bill" was Isaac Cody, who was born in 1811 in what is now the county of Peel, Ontario, and lived there until he removed with his father and other members of the family to Cleveland, Ohio, in 1829.

Not only was Col. Cody's father born in this country, but the grandfather of the colonel spent nearly 30 years of his life in this country. The grandfather of "Buffalo Bill" was Philip Cody, who migrated from the United States to Canada in 1800. He settled in the neighborhood of Newmarket, (scene of this year's family reunion), where his brother Joseph had located two or three years before. Incidentally, St. Andrew's college, in the Aurora district, is located on land once owned and occupied by the Cody brothers, Joseph and Philip.

GENTRY RECALLED BY MEMORIAL TABLETS

Two interesting memorial tablets, now to be seen in the shop of G. W. Luesby, Newmarket stone-cutter, will be erected in Anglican churches at Thornhill and Holland Landing shortly.

The tablets commemorate "John Barwick, of Holt, Co. Norfolk, England, born in St. Petersburg, Russia, Feb. 28, 1808, son of Wm. Barwick, of Leeds, Co. Yorkshire, England, and St. Petersburg, Russia, died at Holland Landing, Upper Canada, April 23, 1881," and "his wife, Mary Ready Lee, daughter of Simon Lee, Captain H.E.I.C.S., born in London, England, Nov. 23, 1815, died at Toronto, June 8, 1895."

One tablet states that they were married in Thornhill church and the other that they were buried in Holland Landing churchyard. The tablets are erected by their "grandchildren, great-grandchildren and great-great-grandchildren."

From B. R. Goodwin, Holland Landing, The Era learned a little more about John Barwick. Barwick's farm is now between Yonge St. and Old Yonge St., on the Holland Landing line. The blacksmith shop of Samuel Lount, of 1837 fame, was a little farther west, on the Given road into Chief Justice Robertson's farm.

A grandson of Samuel Lount and a descendant of Barwick are married and live in Toronto. Barwick belonged to the firm of Thorne and Barwick, who had mills at Thornhill and Holland Landing. Thornhill gets its name from this "Thorne." The firm brought the Murphy, Brown and Hutchinson families to Holland Landing from Thornhill.

LIONS NEED OVER $1,000 TO CARRY ON

BE OF INTEREST TO EVERYBODY

DATE IS AUGUST 16

Plans for the annual Lions club carnival are now in full swing. Chairman Frank Courtney and his committee have their prizes and merchandise pretty well purchased and are pushing their plans for a better-than-ever carnival.

The place is the Stuart Scott school grounds. The date is Wednesday, Aug. 16, at an early hour, but you can stay late.

An invitation is extended by President Jack Luck to not only residents of Newmarket, but to friends of the children's work in Aurora and the entire district, to be on hand and help boost the carnival over the top.

As the result of rumored criticism, the Lions have modified their carnival program to make it as nearly as possible acceptable to all elements in the community.

The Lions wish to emphasize the importance of the work that they are doing, and the non-existence of any other agency prepared to take up the torch on behalf of the underprivileged, and to urge the public to respond generously to the carnival appeal. Over $1,000 is needed to carry on the work for another year.

THOS. SANDERSON DIES WAS CANE'S FIREMAN

Funeral services were held this afternoon for Thomas Richard Sanderson, who died at his home on Andrew St. on Monday, in his 71st year. He had a stroke over seven years ago and had been in ill-health since then.

Mr. Sanderson was well-known in the surrounding townships. He was born in Queensville, the son of Diana Smith and Rickman Sanderson. Forty-five years ago he married Annie Smith of Ravenshoe. He farmed in Scott township until 1910, when he moved to Newmarket.

Mr. Sanderson was a fireman at the Wm. Cane & Sons factory. Although he was firing the boilers at the time of the explosion, he escaped unharmed.

Mr. Sanderson is survived by his wife; three daughters, Mrs. Wilfrid Prosser (Florence), Windsor, Mrs. Larry Thivert (Mina), Jellico, Mrs. Jas. Tinegate (Martha), Welland; four sons, Rickman, Newmarket, Rev. Emerson J. Brown Summit, N.C., Harold Thomas, at home, and Dr. William, Sydney, Ohio; one sister, Mrs. Wm. Sheppard, Toronto, and a sister-in-law, Mrs. H. J. Sanderson, Toronto.

The service, at the funeral chapel of Roadhouse & Rose, was conducted by Rev. Burton Hill. Interment was made in Queensville cemetery. Pallbearers were Edgar Dennis, Fred A. Landy, Wm. Wingler, L. P. Cane, R. L. Bong and Wm. Tate.

GAME WARDEN WATSON RESCUES SWIMMERS

Stepping into 15 feet of water, Evelyn Miller of Holland Landing narrowly escaped drowning in the Holland River on Monday, taking Aldea Foster of Toronto, who attempted to rescue her, with her, by locking her in a tight embrace. Arthur Watson, 68-year old Holland Landing game warden, when he saw the girls going down and heard the other swimmers screaming, jumped in fully clothed, and pulled the girls to the bank and safety.

The spot where the girls had been swimming has been condemned and signs that had been erected to warn swimmers of the danger had been torn down.

New Fair Grounds Bleachers Suggested As Redmen Transfer

RICHMOND HILL, NEWMARKET CLASH HERE TONIGHT, CHANGE DIAMONDS

DIAMOND IMPROVED

Richmond Hill will meet the Redmen at the fair grounds this evening.

The Newmarket Redmen have decided to move from their old stamping grounds at the Stuart Scott field to the new diamond now under construction at the fair grounds. This move is made necessary by the congestion of teams at the school grounds, and the growing popularity of softball with the new town league.

The Redmen have been unable to obtain proper hours for their practices, and it was considered good sportsmanship for the Redmen to move to a field that is not so tied up with other teams. Alex Webster's team have the diamond on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, leaving open Tuesday and Thursday nights for the Redmen, which they have requested reserved for them.

It is understood from good authority that the officers of the Redmen are now at work putting this diamond into proper condition for senior ball, and that they have made a proposition to the town council, trying to sell them the idea of a suitable bleacher down the first and third-base line of the diamond to hold approximately 300 people. This would provide seating accommodation for their many followers, who have to stand for

95 - Year - Old Fisherman Once Had Narrow Escape

USED TO CATCH SUCKERS
WITH HIS HANDS AS A BOY IN NEWMARKET

One of The Era's oldest subscribers brought the editor or the editor's wife, to be exact, a gift of two lovely bass on Saturday, and it wasn't in payment for a subscription either. It was out of the kindness and courtesy of a kindly and courtly heart.

He is 95 years old and caught these bass in Muskoka on Friday. He is as enthusiastic a fisherman as in the days when as a boy he used to catch suckers by hand in the Bogartown creek, near Gormham's mill dam, not far from his own home on Prospect St.

This life-long fisherman caught six nice bass on Friday, fishing from a rowboat. "But I had to work for them," he said. He fished both morning and afternoon.

"I have always loved the water," said this summer resident of "Greater Newmarket." Sir William Mulock, for indeed, who else could it be? A fisherman at 95 years!

"Is it true, Sir William, that as a boy you had a narrow escape from drowning at Bond Lake?"

"No, I knew Bond Lake, but the only escape from drowning that I ever had was as an older man, in Lake Simcoe. It was in the winter time and I was campaigning in North York. I had been at Sutton and was staying at the home of my friend, Dr. Tom Bentley, and I had to go over to Bradford."

"It was bitterly cold and when I started out Mrs. Bentley insisted on wrapping a shawl around my head. I was driving with a horse. When we reached Keswick the man who was driving me asked me whether I would like to cross over on the ice. I said yes if it were safe."

"So we started across. We had gone a considerable distance. I was huddled down, with the shawl about my head. Suddenly the horse went through the ice. I looked up, saw what had happened and threw myself out on the ice on my stomach. The driver did the same at his side."

"Then he asked me to go around and hold the horse's head while he unhitched the horse. After that he put a rope noose around the horse's neck and jerked it. Doing that to a horse seems to give it extra strength and arouse it to a special effort. The horse responded and finally struggled out on the ice."

"We hitched the horse up again. I finally found the shawl and my gloves, which had become buried in the snow. The driver asked me if I wanted to go on or go back. I said that we would go back, and so we did. Soon the horse was frozen over, just covered with white ice."

BAND PLANS PROGRESS

A meeting of the two town bands and their respective citizens' committees was held in the R.S.A. bugle band hall on Tuesday evening to discuss plans for a big "band night" on Wednesday, Sept. 13.

An enthusiastic gathering appointed the following executive: A. N. Belugin, chairman, Roy Rhinehart and Leonard Little, vice-chairmen, D. O. Mungovan, secretary, Ernest Falrey, assistant secretary, and H. E. Lambert, treasurer.

SERVICE CLUB WORKERS REPRESENT 8 NATIONS

"The International Lions club convention is so large that you can't see it all," said Dr. C. E. VanderVoort, returning delegate from a convention at Pittsburgh last week.

The party consisted of Dr. and Mrs. VanderVoort and Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Bosworth. Dr. VanderVoort and Mr. Bosworth were both delegates of the Newmarket club. "For dances and dinners it was necessary to have several going on simultaneously in different buildings to accommodate all the delegates," said Dr. VanderVoort.

"Eight different countries were represented," he said. "The convention makes you realize the size of the Lions organization, and the tremendous amount of welfare work it is doing, and, not least, the importance of our own work here in Newmarket."

Mr. Bosworth drove the party. In Lackawanna, N. Y., another car collided with Mr. Bosworth's and did considerable damage to it. None of the party was injured.

FOUNDER IS GUEST OF SIR WM. MULOCK

Sir William Mulock entertained the Men of the Trees at his home on Yonge St. on Tuesday. Sir William is honorary president of the Canadian branch of the society and F. E. Robson is president.

The founder of the organization, Capt. St. Barbe Baker, of England, was one of the guests and addressed the gathering. He urged that Canada look to the conservation of its forests while it still remained a country of happy youthfulness.

Sir William eventually got to Bradford. The "longest way round" was the shortest way home.

Former Radial Man Dies Following 68th Birthday

UNTIL FEW WEEKS AGO WORKED WITH SON IN HURON ST. GARAGE

A likeable and well-respected citizen and a familiar figure in Newmarket since Metropolitan railway days, John William Gordon died in St. Michael's hospital, Toronto, on Friday. He was 68 years old on Wednesday.

Mr. Gordon, who worked with his son, Harold Gordon, member of the Fildes & Gordon garage firm, was at work until a few weeks ago. He was taken to St. Michael's hospital on July 3. His death was unexpected, and came as a shock to his family and to many friends and acquaintances.

Rev. R. J. McMath, of Trinity United church, conducted services on Monday afternoon at his former home, 70 Gormham St., and at Newmarket cemetery.

Pallbearers were F. O. R. Simpson, Ford Wilson, Newton Marshall, Wesley Gibney, Charles Munshaw and John Marron.

Born in Vaughan township, Mr. Gordon grew up and farmed there until 20 years ago. He married 42 years ago Agnes Pearson of Vaughan township.

He gave up farming and took a position with the Metropolitan railway at Schomberg, living in Newmarket. He was in this position until the radial was taken up.

Surviving are his wife, one brother, Thomas, Barrie, who is the last survivor of a family of five, and two sons and three daughters, Harold, Newmarket, Laura (Mrs. Ber Gilkes), Newmarket, Hazel (Mrs. Frank Bowser), Newmarket, Flossie, Newmarket, and Charles, Summit Golf club.

NEWMARKET LADY SEES METEOR BLAZE

A witness of the spectacle when a meteorite landed in a Kent county field recently was Mrs. David McCarty, Newmarket, who was visiting her daughter, Mrs. H. J. Irvine, wife of Dr. Irvine, at Bridgen.

"We were sitting on the porch," Mrs. McCarty told The Era. "It went over with a swishing sound. It was the most brilliant light I ever saw. It looked like a ball about two feet in diameter. The whole house was lit up. It was like two rumblings of thunder when it exploded. It came down about 20 miles south of where we were."

WANTS CORRECTION

Robert H. Huntley wishes The Era to state that he "warned" but did not "threaten" the council that he would take legal action to stop the town from selling his property at a tax sale.

Mr. Huntley also wishes it made clear that he tendered certain recent years' taxes in full but that they were not accepted by the town clerk's office, N. L. Mathews, K. C. town clerk, said at the council meeting that this was because the money was tendered not only in full of the years concerned but in full of arrears too.

COL. GEO. DREW — AN ANALYSIS

Col. George Drew is pursuing rather interesting tactics in his pursuit of power at Queen's Park. He is making speeches all over the province, but he is not discussing provincial affairs. He will discuss world affairs, and dominion affairs, but he has not yet opened his guns on the Hepburn government. Of course, there has been the stray shot. Perhaps he criticized the establishment of a beverage room at Sunny-side in the face of Toronto's protest. Col. Drew spoke at Midland last week, in his own constituency, and confined his arrows mostly to Japan. He told how he believed Canada should handle the Japanese situation.

A Contrast In Manoeuvres

Col. Drew's tactics are entirely different from those of the great Hepburn when he was campaigning for power. Mr. Hepburn was a man with one idea, that the Henry government of the day was extravagant, inefficient and even dishonest. He pounded away with all the vehemence which is his, and with the help of Old Man Depression he "swung to the left" right into power. Now Col. Drew is evidently a clever man. He is not going to underestimate his opponent. He probably thinks that the Hepburn government, not being so ripe as the Henry government, will not be so easily pushed from power. So he doesn't rely on Mr. Hepburn's tactics of 1934. Instead, he decides to sell himself first to the people, as a good salesman would, and later sell his goods. His only concern, for the present, under this plan, is to secure audiences, to win their interest and liking, and to secure newspaper publicity. He is succeeding admirably. By talking about Japan, and Hitler and Mussolini, and the Bren gun contract, he can demonstrate his non-partisanship in Ontario affairs and show the public that he is no party slave. Later on, when he wants the votes, we shall hear Col. Drew slaying Mr. Hepburn and his dragons.

Work To Do

While granting that Col. Drew's tactics are possibly excellent, we should like to see him get down to the job of providing opposition to and criticism of the Hepburn government. It is surely needed. Perhaps we want a change of front because we haven't much sympathy with Col. Drew's opinions on national and international affairs. Employed by Maclean's Magazine, he did do a good service in exposing the sloppy handling by the Ottawa government of the Bren gun contract, just an indication of the profiteering which would take place in the event of another war.

Blow For Blow

At Midland Col. Drew said that the Tientsin affair was a "Japanese Hitler act" similar to Germany's occupation of Austria and Czechoslovakia, and that if Japanese policy was to continue to be "based on hatred" Canada should order all Japanese citizens out of this country. Deportation of Japanese citizens residing in Canada was "the only answer" to the aggressive acts of Japan in China and British-Chinese territory. You see? Col. Drew would have a Canadian "Hitler act" as a reply to a Japanese "Hitler act." He would deport Japanese citizens, breaking up Japanese families, for he could not deport Japanese who have become Canadian citizens or who were born in this country. He preaches hatred as a reply to hatred. He is a militarist.

Hepburn Needs A Strong Critic

Why doesn't he make war on the Hepburn government? The Hepburn government's beer policy today is doing more harm to the people of Ontario than the Japanese have ever done. The Hepburn government's attack on the Kaufman name is also open to question. The Hepburn government deserves credit for courageous collection of succession duties, and for opening up estates where fraud is suspected, but the government is not entitled to support when it goes into an estate, settled 20 years ago, which devolved principally to a man who has been giving it away ever since to charity and community welfare projects. Come, come, Col. Drew, there is work to be done!

NEWMARKET BE PROUD

Under the heading "Abominable Mail Service" the Midland Free Press states that if a letter is posted in the "little village of Wyebridge four miles south of here" on Monday afternoon, it will not be delivered in the Midland post office until Wednesday morning. The Free Press complains that it also takes two days for mail to reach Midland from Waverley, nine miles south, and Elmville, 15 miles away. "It may in the meantime have travelled all around Simcoe county by way of Allandale, Barrie and Orillia before reaching here." Comparatively speaking, postal arrangements in the Newmarket district are excellent. Mail connection with Newmarket is in most instances direct, but even where the connection with Newmarket is via Toronto delivery takes only 24 hours. Mail from Newmarket to Sutton goes direct but mail from Newmarket to Kettleby goes via Toronto. Kettleby to Newmarket mail comes via Toronto sometimes and sometimes via Aurora. Perhaps it is not for nothing that North York has been represented in its day by two postmasters-general.

SPENDING PUBLIC MONEY

The town council last week approved the expenditure of $9,000 to install a new switch-board, lightning arresters and spare circuit and to make alterations to the building used as water-works and power distribution plant. The council made this expenditure on the recommendation of H. R. McClymont, the engineer who investigated the town's electrical plant some months ago. This large expenditure is chief item in $16,760 worth of preliminary expenditures recommended by Mr. McClymont. We say "preliminary" because Mr. McClymont describes them as "the expenditures which are known to be desirable prior to your obtaining more extensive tests on the transformers and distribution system."

Remember High School Vote

The expenditure, recommended to the council by Chairman A. D. Evans and his committee, went through practically without discussion. This throws the affairs of the electric light department into contrast with high school affairs. It will be remembered that last year when the high school board wanted to spend $12,500, as Newmarket's half of a vocational wing to the high school, the board had first to go to the council and secure the council's approval. The council then asked the Ontario municipal and railway board for approval of the issue of debentures for that amount. The board refused. The council then submitted the question to the people, and the people (or the property-owners) voted the proposal down.

Why The Difference?

The difference is that the council doesn't expect to have to borrow money to make these electric light department improvements of $9,000. As Deputy-Reeve Vale said, the council hopes to get a substantial rebate from the Ontario Hydro-Electric for over-payments. Aside from that, the council can raise all the money it wishes through the tax rate, without being dependent on a vote of the property-owners, although the councillors are, of course, dependent on the vote of the citizens for return to office. If the council were to refer the $9,000 proposal to the property-owners, we think it would go down to a more resounding defeat than did the high school vocational wing proposal.

Law At Fault

The council, we believe, is doing the right thing in approving this $9,000 expenditure (we might even call it a $16,760 expenditure, for the council will approve the other items from time to time). We do call attention, however, to the inconsistency of the municipal legislation which puts obstacles in the way of educational expenditures and makes other, greater expenditures so simple. The province has recognized the importance of education in the provision that fixed assessments do not apply for school purposes taxation. The legislature might well consider an enactment giving all citizens, whether property-owners or tenants, the right to vote on proposals to issue debentures for school purposes. Too high a proportion of property-owners in a country town have no direct interest in schools and school-children to give a progressive educational proposal a sporting chance of success.

Could Be Done

Of course, the high school board might just go ahead and put up the new wing and levy on the town council for the necessary money. We don't suppose that there would be any way of stopping the board, any more than there is any way of stopping the town council from spending as much money as it wishes. It is hardly fair, however, to ask the board to take so much responsibility.

Vocational Need Is There

Newmarket does need vocational teaching at the high school. We owe it to our young people to give them the best possible chance in life, and we owe it to employers, whom we expect to give opportunities to young people, to give the young people the preliminary education which suits them best.

The Common Round

ILLUSION?

By Isabel Inglis Colville

Who said, "There are more things in heaven and earth than are dreamt of in your philosophy?"

For myself, I always attribute any saying which sounds profound and of whose authorship I am doubtful, to either the Bible or Shakespeare.

The words quoted above are, I know, NOT from the Bible, but whether from Shakespeare or not, I am in doubt.

However, the authorship is not important, save that the words seem to fit a certain rather strange experience which befell our little family and two guests, one hot summer evening, a few years ago.

One of our guests had a car and in it we were driving to Toronto to make a call on some friends there.

I was in the seat beside the driver, and in the back seat were my mother, my better half and Mrs. A. Mrs. A. was directly behind me; my husband behind the driver. It was one of those nights when the heat seems to reduce one's brain to a soft jelly—in which nothing will hold its shape, so our talk was very much on the surface and we were enjoying even the tiny breeze which the motion of the car generated.

I sat looking straight ahead, with no particular thought in mind, when suddenly I sat up straight and gasped, "Margaret, do you see what I see?"

From the back seat came exclamations of wonder as Margaret brought the car almost to a stop, then backed.

"How strange!" exclaimed Mrs. Allan; and my better half said, "I put on the brakes quicker than you did, Margaret, for I was sure that car was backing straight into us!"

"Backing — BACKING, did you say?" gasped Mrs. A. and I, in the same breath—"it was headed directly FOR us!"

"Nonsense!" and "oh no!" chanted friend husband and our driver, in unison, "the red tail light was almost touching us—it was quite a new car, too."

"New car!" echoed Mrs. A. and I, in astonishment and disgust, "either you or we are losing our senses—it was an old touring car, a 23 or 24 or earlier, it didn't seem to have a driver and it careened round that corner, just as you slowed up."

"The heat has gone to your head, my dear," said the man of the house, in the placating tone one uses to the mentally bereft.

"Archie Colville!" said Mrs. A. in tones which were nothing if not firm, "I'd like you to know that I saw exactly what Isabel saw, and I'll match our brains against yours and Margaret's any day."

"What did you see, Auntie?" asked Mrs. A. of mother.

"Why should I worry about the traffic?" asked that lady placidly—"I thought that was what the driver was for."

As this didn't shed any light on the subject, we travelled along for a while in silence.

Then from the back seat, "But those tail-lights came back so fast I was POSITIVE they would run into us, before Margaret could back up," this from my best beloved.

"Exactly, Archie," said the lady at the wheel, "I had heart failure when I felt I mightn't reverse quickly enough."

"Nonsense," I said disgustedly, "the old car we saw came right along in a cloud of dust and went round the corner on two wheels and it was coming on the WRONG side of the street."

"I told you so," said the partner of MY vision, "and I hope I never see anything like it again, for it was horribly uncanny—a ghost car—coming directly toward us, then swerving round the corner."

"So many accidents have happened at Richmond Hill," said I, "that it's no wonder ghostly cars haunt the scene of their destruction. I feel positive that on just such an evening, years ago, that car careened up Yonge St., driven by someone either intoxicated or occupied by someone whose hands had fallen from the wheel through sudden illness, and just as they got to this corner something tragic happened. Now don't argue with me, I've a feeling in my bones that this is the explanation."

"You must have a temperature and your vision be distorted by fever," said my husband, a trifle unfeelingly, "it was simply some reflection from all these car lights, in that swirl of dust which blew round the corner."

"Reflection!" sneered Mrs. A., "reflection!" repeated I, "Oh it's too hot to argue, but we each saw something which startled us, and made our driver back up. Which two of us saw anything real, will always remain a mystery."

If only two of us had seen something and AGREED about it, it would be, perhaps, explainable — maybe — but for four people to get a fright—two seeing one thing—two another—needs a bit of explaining.

It happened a few years ago, but always when we four meet, the subject comes up.

No one ever gives in, so we preserve our status quo, and continue to see our own phenomenon, as plainly as the night it happened.

"Yes, there are more things in heaven and earth," than we dream of.

top of that tall maple tree," exclaimed Nutty. "My goodness, what a beauty! It's a Rose-breasted Grosbeak. Just look at that black and white coloring and the rosy-red splash of his breast. Magnificent!"

"What are you people staring at?" asked another voice, and Young Chips, the Chickadee, appeared beside the others. After he had seen and admired the Grosbeak, Young Chips told his friends where he had come from. "I've been over to the town," he said.

"Whom did you see there?" asked Nutty.

"There don't seem to be a great many birds in the town just now," said Young Chips. "The Tree Swallows are beginning to flock down around Fairy Lake. They always do that for a few weeks before they finally migrate."

"There are a lot of Nighthawks swooping around Main St., as usual," he added. "I was talking to one Nighthawk mother. She was telling me about her family troubles."

"What were they?" asked Hattie Nuthatch with interest.

"Oh, she couldn't get her two young ones to fly for the longest time after they had finally come down from their nest on a flat gravel roof," he told her. "Once they were down on the ground they just sat and sat, and they were in the most terrible plight the mother said, because anyone could have come and practically picked them up, they were so unaware of the danger."

"She and her mate kept swooping daintily right down almost to the ground, trying to coax them to fly," Young Chips told them. "Finally they did, of course, but she said that the worry of it was simply awful. 'I sympathize with the poor soul,' said Hattie. 'And just imagine trying to teach them that death-defying diving of theirs.'"

"When you stop to think of it, it's really wonderful how the young birds of all the different species learn the peculiar habits and tricks of their parents," said Woody Woodpecker.

"I certainly think it's wonderful how the young Nuthatches do," said Hattie proudly.

"I'm sure they're not one bit smarter than the Young Chickadees," put in Young Chips quickly.

A SONGSPARROW GETS "BAWLED OUT"

BY RUTH DINGMAN HEBB

"Just look over there," said Hattie Nuthatch to her mate.

"That poor Song Sparrow is feeding a young Cowbird. And I suppose she hasn't had the time or energy to feed her own babies enough, if any of them survived the ordeal of having a Cowbird in the nest with them."

"It's certainly a disgraceful thing to see," agreed Nutty, "but it seems to be one of the things that we can't do anything about. Why in the world do you waste your strength feeding that big brute of a Cowbird, Mrs. Song Sparrow?" he called over to her.

The Song Sparrow seemed to blush a little before she replied. "Well, to tell you the truth, I have grown quite fond of this big, ugly duckling, which I hatched out along with my own family," she explained. "Of course, at first, we were heart-broken and terribly worried, but after we resigned ourselves to the presence of the stranger, it wasn't so bad. And as I say, in time I began to regard the poor thing as one of my own, and now, I wouldn't dream of leaving it to starve."

"That's a very stupid way of looking at it, if you ask me," said Hattie severely. "Just think how many more Cowbirds you are responsible for bringing into the world by caring for that one, and how many Cowbirds' eggs will be laid in other birds' nests by them, and the misery that you will cause in that way."

"Yes, I suppose so," sighed the Song Sparrow despairingly, "but at the time, when the egg was first laid in our nest, there was nothing we could do to get it out and since then, we have just followed our instincts, I guess. I'll bet you would have done the same thing if it had happened to you."

"Perhaps I would," said Hattie. "I really do feel sorry for you." "Who's that singing so beautifully over there in the woods?" asked Woody, the Downy Woodpecker, who had just alighted beside the others and was pecking industriously up the tree trunk.

"Whoever it is has a perfectly lovely warbling song," said Hattie. "Can you see what tree he is in?"

"No, he's quite a way into the woods, I imagine," said Woody. "Let's go and find him." They flew off into the woods in the direction from which the song was coming and had soon arrived quite near the singer.

"There he is, right up near the

POLICE COURT TOUCHES 95 M.P.H. TO CATCH MOTORIST

A fine of $25 and costs of $15.50, or ten days, and his driver's license cancelled for two months was the penalty imposed on William S. Constive, Toronto, who was convicted on a reckless driving charge by Magistrate Ross Hossack in police court here on Tuesday.

"Last Sunday night, July 23, at 9.15 I was investigating an accident between Elgin Mills and Bond Lake in which several people were injured," testified Provincial Constable A. O. Ferguson. "I noticed a car going north at a high speed and a number of people who had stopped their cars to help clear up the accident also saw it coming and stepped off the road to avoid being hit."

"Constive went past the accident at about 70 m. p. h. I was standing near my motorcycle when Constive passed, so I followed him. At one time Constive overtook a car going north while meeting two south-bound cars which were abreast, making four cars abreast on a three-lane highway."

"Constive drove at 75 and 80 m. p. h. and he passed several cars while he was going at 75 m. p. h. I had to go 95 m. p. h. on my motorcycle to stop him at Bond Lake. I placed Constive under arrest and held him in the Newmarket jail until he got bail. There was no evidence of liquor."

Constive testified that at no time did he go over 65 m. p. h. and that he passed seven or eight cars but that he went back into his own lane after passing each car.

"Do you read the papers about all the motor accidents we have had this year?" asked Magistrate Hossack.

"Yes," answered Constive.

"Why did you drive so fast?"

"I am used to driving a 1931 Ford car and on Sunday night I was driving a 1938 car belonging to a friend and it was so much easier to drive that I must have speeded without noticing it."

"Is it necessary for you to have an accident and kill one of your friends before you learn to drive carefully?" asked the magistrate.

"I drive that road every weekend and I have never had any trouble before," stated Constive.

"I am glad there was no one hurt by Constive but I think he should be convicted and his license suspended," stated Crown Attorney N. L. Mathews, K.C.

Two charges of keeping liquor for sale and having illegal possession of liquor laid against Ernest Doyle, Newmarket, were both adjourned until Aug. 15 for hearing. Charges of having illegal possession of liquor laid against George Sutton, Whitchurch township, and Howard Linstead, Sharon, were also adjourned until Aug. 15. All charges were laid by Inspector William Brimacombe of the York county police.

A joint charge of obstructing laid against Katherine Holley, Frank West, and Grace Holley, all of Holland Landing, was adjourned one week for hearing. A second charge of assault laid against Katherine Holley was also adjourned. Both charges were laid by Richard Foster.

Convicted on a charge of vagrancy and creating a disturbance, Sam Nolan, Holland Landing, was fined $10 and costs, or ten days.

Nolan testified that some of his friends had come up from Toronto that afternoon and brought a jug of wine and that he had a couple of drinks.

"Why did you create a disturbance?" asked Magistrate Hossack.

"I just said a few words but I wasn't drunk," answered Nolan.

For trespassing on the private property of George Holborn, North Gwillimbury, Herbert Davidson, Toronto, was remanded for sentence on the payment of the court costs.

Mr. Holborn stated that he had had a lot of difficulty with people trespassing on his property and that they had made a right-of-way across it. "There is a sign saying 'private property' right in front of the gate. When I saw Davidson and his girl on my property I asked Davidson for his name and address and he refused to give it to me, so I called the constable and he gave him his name etc."

"We had been swimming and it was starting to rain and the gate was open, so we went through for a short cut," stated Davidson. "I had seen several different people going through there that day and I didn't see the sign."

Convicted on charges of careless driving, four Toronto motorists were each fined $5 and costs. Those fined were: Stanley Goszewicz, Frank Prebble, P. S. Miller, and Mrs. R. W. Armstrong. All charges were laid by Constable Ferguson.

"I followed Goszewicz south on Yonge St. on Sunday night at 60 m. p. h.," stated Constable Ferguson. "At one time Goszewicz was driving in the centre lane and a woman attempting to pass a northbound car was forced to go back behind again, as Goszewicz didn't get over to his own lane. There were three grown-ups and two children in the front seat of the Goszewicz car."

"The number of people in the front seat alone is dangerous driving without speeding at 60 m. p. h. in Sunday night traffic," stated Mr. Mathews.

The magistrate reserved judgment for one week on a charge of careless driving laid against James G. C. Auld, Toronto.

"On July 8, at 4.30 p.m., I stopped the roadster driven by Auld on the Queenville flats," stated Constable Joseph Jardine, East Gwillimbury. "Auld was driving toward Keswick at 35 m.p.h. and he had another man and woman with him but instead of the pair sitting on the seat they were sitting on top of the back of the seat. The passengers and driver seemed to be having some conversation and Auld put his hand back to the lady twice while I was following him. There

With this new practical machine, floors are SCRUBBED, MOPPED, CLEANED, WAXED, POLISHED, WITHOUT KNEELING, rolling hands or clothing. Half time and half wax is saved.

No rough, red or infected hands, broken nails, sore knees, lame backs, soiled clothing.

THE NEW WAY PRESERVES YOUTHFUL FIGURE AND SPIRITS, GIVES TIME FOR REST, AIDS HEALTH AND HAPPINESS.

From London we get the survey of a home service bureau, which states that in 12 months an average woman scrubs five miles of floors.

Let those who carry dirt to the floor clean it once and they will buy a Joy mop for those who clean it all the time.

SAFEGUARD YOUR HOME — Research authorities say there are 5,000,000 germs in a thimbleful of floor dirt. Those who clean floors in the old insanitary way get those DEADLY GERMS on hands and clothing. They distribute them, then wonder how some loved one gets some terrible disease. Don't run this risk — use a WRINGER-JOYMOP and holling water, which kills germs and sterilizes cloth and brush.

SWEEPSTAKE TICKET NOT CHARITY -- PASTOR

"Some people think that they are helping the Irish hospitals when they buy a $2.50 sweepstake ticket," commented Rev. R. R. McMath, himself an Irishman, in the course of his sermon at Trinity United church on Sunday morning.

"What they are really doing is turning a lot of good Christian people from supporting the Irish hospitals," Mr. McMath continued. "I have visited there and I have seen the new hospitals that have gone up. It is coldly commercial. Yet there are still some people who imagine that they are associating with Jesus because they buy a sweepstake ticket."

"We have gone through ten years of depression, wars and rumors of war," said Mr. McMath at another point, "bloodshed, loss of faith in business, and we have never yet thought that we had anything in the church to help us."

"The solution of our need is a relationship with Jesus such as we have never known before, a dependence on him."

REV. FRANK BRUNTON GIVES AWAY BRIDE

A pretty event will take place at St. Paul's Anglican church on Saturday afternoon at 3.30 D.S.T. when Miss Joy Irving Meyer, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John P. Meyer, Newmarket, will be united in marriage to Herbert F. Dunham, son of Lieut.-Col. and Mrs. Frederick H. Dunham, Baby Point, Toronto.

Rev. E. L. Wasson, rector of the Church of the Transfiguration, Toronto, will perform the ceremony, assisted by Rev. A. J. Pastone, rector of St. Paul's.

Rev. Frank Brunton, of Bradenton, Florida, will give the bride in marriage.

The bridesmaid will be Miss Marion Proctor, Newmarket. The groomsmen will be Donald C. McConachie, Toronto. Ushers will be John Meyer, Newmarket, and William Semple, Toronto.

R. S. A. AND DAVIS TIE FOR LEADERSHIP

One of the best games so far this season in the town league was played "to bluish unseen and waste its sweetness on the desert air." The reason was competition from the big leaguers at the fair grounds. Only a handful of people saw R. S. A. buglers down the Sons of England at the Stuart Scott school grounds on Friday evening.

The game ended 14-13 after an extra inning. Piling up six runs in the second, the Sons had a 9-4 lead at the end of that inning. By the end of the seventh the buglers had caught up.

First at bat in the extra inning, Sons managed to get a man on base but went down with the 13-4 clinch unbroken. R. S. A. did the trick in their half.

The game left R. S. A. and Davis Leather tied for first place and Office Specialty and Sons of England tied for third place.

The Sons couldn't make up their minds about a pitcher. Aubrey Barker started to pitch, was transferred to first while Fred Evans pitched for a while, traded with Fred again a little later, traded back again, and finally pitched for the extra inning with Fred Evans catching.

Evans had a home run to his credit in addition to his display of versatility in three different posts. Jack Brooks, another son of Angletterre, marked up two home runs. Grant Colwell contented himself with one.

In the field the Sons' outstanding performance was turned in by Stan Evans, fast-moving shortstop.

Clifford Gunn, second baseman for the musicians, took the red ribbon for performance among his team-mates. Five times at bat, Ernest Fahey reached first four times. Gerald Blight pitched the whole way through for the buglers, and earned his victory.

Few errors marked the game. It was just too bad that more fans couldn't have seen the boys at their best.

Sons: Cyril Keats, c; Aubrey Barker and Fred Evans, p; and 1b; Gordon Brewer, 2b; Stan Evans, as; Albert Evans, 3b; Grant Colwell, lf; Jack Brooks, rf; George Germain, cf.

Bugle Band: Arthur Dobbie, c; Gerald Blight, p; Carl Preston, 1b; Clifford Gunn, 2b; Ernest Fahey, as; Bill Haskell, 3b; Fred Lusted, lf; Bill Everest, cf; Jack Wright, rf.

Plate umpire: Carl Turan. Base umpire: Ernest Bennitz.

Davis lined out a double that was flummed by Charlie Cunningham, thus advancing the runners to third and second.

However, Big Alex, broke down and the next hitter grounded to Luck for an easy out to end the game.

Davis and Folliott were the most consistent hitters for the visitors.

Both the fans and his team-mates missed the colorful presence of Mike Shaika, who could always be counted upon to liven up any ball game from his position behind the plate.

MISS RUTH SILVER WEDS N. W. MITCHELL

Knox United church, Sutton West, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Saturday, when Margaret Barbara Ruth, elder daughter of Mr. Oliver James Silver, Sutton West, was united in marriage to Mr. Norman Wesley Mitchell of Oshawa, son of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Mitchell, Burk's Falls.

The church was decorated with fern, blue delphinium, hollyhocks, white hydrangea and roses.

Rev. J. E. Anderson of Wingham, performed the ceremony, assisted by Rev. N. S. Anderson of Sutton.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white chiffon, with a finger-tip tulle veil. She carried a shower bouquet of white sweet peas, white lilac and maidenhead fern.

Her attendants were Miss Frances Evans, as maid of honor, gowned in delphinium blue marquisette over taffeta with matching flower and tulle hat, and Miss Hilda Silver, sister of the bride, as bridesmaid, gowned in pink net over taffeta, with matching flower and velvet hat.

Both attendants carried blue delphinium and pink sweet peas. Mr. Frank Mitchell of Weston was his brother's groomsmen. The ushers were Mr. Hugh Morritt and Mr. Jack Somerville, both of Hamilton.

The wedding music was played by Mr. Frank Mitchell, and during the signing of the register Miss Lillian Holborn sang "O Promise Me."

A reception followed at the home of the bride's father, the groom's parents receiving with Mr. Silver. Mrs. Mitchell wore a suit of black silk boucle with a corsage of orchids.

Following the reception the couple motored to Muskoka where they will spend their honeymoon. Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell will reside in Oshawa.

BERNICE RIX IS BRIDE OF PETER HANSLER

A quiet wedding was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents on Saturday, July 22, when Bernice Dorothea Rix, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Rix, Toronto, became the bride of Peter Jacob Hansler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Hansler, Newmarket.

The bride looked lovely dressed in a mandarin blue flowered sheer with blue accessories and wore a corsage of pink roses, mauve sweet peas and maiden hair fern. Mrs. Wm. R. Harden, in regina blue sheer with a corsage of pink roses and lily-of-the-valley, was matron-of-honor. The best man was Wm. R. Harden.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents for the immediate relatives. The bride's mother received in black lace and the groom's mother in mauve sheer.

Following a wedding trip to Newmarket and Haliburton the happy young couple will live near Goderich.

CUBS ENJOY ROAST

For the last two weeks the Wolf Cubs of the Second Newmarket Pack have enjoyed wicker roasts on the back campus of the United church. The first week, on account of rain, they had to eat in the Cub hall in the basement of the church.

The second week the roast was a grand success with perfect weather. The Cubs ate wieners, roasted marshmallows and toasted popcorn. At about 10.30 p.m. the Cubs formed a circle around the fire and had a lively sing-song. After the Cubs had put the fire out they gave their Grand Howl and then left for home.

Status Of Reeve, Weeds, Old Yonge St., Discussed

REEVE IS REEVE, NOT RE-SIGNED, MAYOR WALT-ON DECLARES

Council met on Monday to settle a number of questions concerning the town's business and to leave a few unsettled for further investigation and report.

Among the items of interest in the "unsettled column" were: (a) the status of the weeds on Wellington St., east of the railway; (b) the status of the reeve, J. A. Knowles; (c) the status of Old Yonge St.

A letter from Weed Inspector Sproston, of Whitechurch, directed council's attention to the existence of weeds on east Wellington St. Weed Inspector James Goulding, of Aurora, was present at the meeting. He offered the opinion the weeds were Whitechurch weeds. The matter will be investigated.

Reeve J. A. Knowles was delayed a few minutes in getting to the meeting. The mayor suggested that certain things might be dealt with, "although the reeve is not here."

"We have no reeve," announced Councillor John Stuart. "He cannot hold two jobs."

Mr. Stuart referred, it is supposed, to the fact that the reeve's appointment as assistant probation officer has been confirmed by the provincial government.

"He is still reeve of Aurora," declared Mayor J. M. Walton. "He has not resigned."

Further discussion was ended, rather dramatically, with the entrance of J. A. Knowles, whom the county has appointed to the salaried position of probation officer, but who is still reeve of Aurora. No investigation was suggested.

Discussion concerning the status of Old Yonge St. began with a request from the Bell Telephone Co., for permission to go about their business on that street. The mayor proposed replying that the town had no jurisdiction over or responsibility for Old Yonge St. The town had never spent money on the street, he believed, and stated that the township of Whitechurch had gravelled the road.

James Goulding stated that the town's water main ran along Old Yonge St. Considerable discussion ensued as to whether the town should deny responsibility in communicating with the telephone company. The mayor said it was a dangerous thing to do work or lay mains on streets not belonging to the town. Council was not sure what action should be taken, and Reeve Knowles suggested they look up agreements made when the main was laid, to see whether or not an easement had been made, or under what conditions the main was put there.

"Let sleeping dogs lie," advised Councillor John Stuart. "No," said Mayor Walton. "If the dog is going to bite you, wake him up."

The matter will be investigated.

SHOEMEN'S COME-BACK IS NOT GOOD ENOUGH

The shoemen almost won a ball game on Thursday night. Fighting against an almost unbeaten lead which had been taken by the tannery in the first inning, they staged an eight-run rally in the third inning that had the tannery working hard to keep ahead for the rest of the game.

The tanners took a seven-run lead in the first inning when Kidd, Walker, White, West, Brown, Smith and Bertenshaw crossed home plate. The shoemen failed to reply in their half of the inning and neither side scored in the third.

In the first of the third the tannery made it 11-0 with runs by Kidd, Higgins and Bertenshaw.

Then the shoemen went to town. Pattenden, Cy and Al Holman, Chapman, Clubine, Milne, McKenzie and Brome all made the circuit to give the shoemen eight sparkling runs.

No further runs were chalked up until the fifth, when Ferguson homered for the tannery and McKenzie came home safely for the shoemen on hits by Pattenden and Egan.

Brown scored for the tannery in the sixth and Len Holman and Clubine, brought the shoemen within two runs of their rivals. They stayed in this position in the seventh, Hodgkins scoring for the tannery and Egan slamming out a homer for the shoemen.

WILL IMPROVE VAULT
A proposal to improve the vault in the town hall, with a view to making it a fireproof depository for town records was made by Mayor J. M. Walton on Monday.

COUNCIL SIGNS BELL TELEPHONE AGREEMENT

An agreement concerning joint use of poles for telephone and town power lines was approved by council on Monday.

HOCKEY ARENA GETS NEW SPORT-TIMER

A sport-timer, a timing device which adds much interest to hockey games, was installed in the Aurora arena last week. The device is located at the east end of the rink and is clearly visible from all seats.

The timer has two hands, one for marking progress of the game by minutes and periods, and another, for marking penalty time in seconds. It was supplied free to the arena by the same firm who backed the team with sweaters in last year's championship season.

Hockey gossip, which has been no further away than the nearest street corner on the hottest days this summer, is to the effect that Aurora will be hiking along the championship trail in a higher division next winter.

HAIL STONES PIERCE ROOF OF AUTOMOBILE

Aurora got a fine taste of the fickleness of the weather man on Sunday, when, after a succession of perfect days, it felt the full blast of a summer storm.

The power went off about one o'clock on Sunday afternoon after torrents had tested out the town roofs. It came on again for a few minutes an hour later, then went off again, returning in time for a late Sunday supper.

Valleys and ditches in the surrounding country became little lakes and rivers before the rain stopped.

But at that, Aurora missed the worst of it, according to John Seaton, who was driving up from Toronto to the lake at the time. He had to put in to Thompson's service station on Yonge St. for temporary repairs to his car roof.

About four miles south of Aurora, near Bond Lake, Mr. Seaton said, he ran into a hail storm. The hail stones measured from one inch to one and one-half inches, and their force was such that they pierced the cloth and felt of his car roof, and chipped off paint from the car fenders.

Doug. Knowles is witness to the condition of the car, in case Aurorans don't feel like believing this one.

TANNERY EDGES OUT FOUNDRY BY 11-10

The Foundry softball team, which is giving supporters of the town league the wim-wams by its habit of almost winning ball games, almost won again on Monday night.

The tannery took a heavy lead in the first inning, but the foundry plugged along with scattered hits, to almost come from behind, leaving the tannery in command at the final inning with a 11-10 verdict.

Kidd, Lusit, W. White, R. White, Burling, Ferguson and Hodgkins made the circuit for the tannery in the first inning, to all of which the foundry replied with a solitary run by Bellman, Wilson being left on third.

In the second, R. White was the only scorer for the tannery, although West did get as far as the third sack. This made it 8-1 for the leather lads, and all the foundry could manage in their half was another lonesome tally, this time by Anthony. Ennis was left on third.

Then the foundry woke up. They held the tannery scoreless in the third while Wilson and Whipperman scored; Anthony dying on third base.

Again in the fourth, they kept the tannery off the score sheet, and came to bat themselves. Wilson flipped off a homer with Whipperman and Bellman on bases, leaving the tannery with the small comfort of an 8-7 margin.

It was the tannery's turn to wake up. West brought in a run that made it 9-7, and the foundry failed to score.

In the sixth, the tannery collected two runs by Lusit and W. White, while the foundry collected on a run by Trivett. The seventh inning saw the tannery scoreless, while the foundry came back with two runs, by Anthony and Ennis.

A paid-in-advance subscription list means a better local news-press printing costs little.

HOLIDAY WEEK

Next week, as a result of holidays, there will be no Era published. Mail subscribers will receive a copy of the Newmarket Express-Herald. The Era will be with you again in two weeks time.

The Era has tried to give a readable and conscientious presentation of the news of the town, and takes this opportunity to say thank you for the many expressions of appreciation received from time to time. The aim has been to make the paper worthy match the town's spirit of progress.

MRS. JAMES PETERS DIES IN 48TH YEAR

The death occurred early on Friday morning, at York county hospital, of Sarah Patrick Peters, the wife of James Peters, Tyler St. She was in her 48th year and had been ill off and on for the past year and a half.

Besides her husband, there survive one daughter, Alice, at home, four sisters and three brothers: Mrs. Annie Hart and Miss Jennie Patrick, of Aurora; Mrs. George Robinson, Whitechurch; and Mrs. Nellie Haight; Saskatoon, Sask.; Thomas and Albert, Aurora; and Robert, Toronto.

The funeral took place in the funeral parlors of P. M. Thompson, Yonge St., on Monday afternoon. Interment was made in Aurora cemetery.

MRS. HENRY C. WEBB DIES IN 75TH YEAR

Born on the same farm as that on which she would have celebrated her 75th birthday on July 26, Lida Ann McGill, wife of the late Henry C. Webb, died on Monday at her home on the 2nd concession of King.

A daughter of William and Margaret McGill, Mrs. Webb had been away from the farm for only a few years following her marriage, when she lived in Springdale. Her husband later purchased her old homestead.

Mr. Webb died three years ago. There survive two sisters: Miss Alma McGill, Aurora and Mrs. J. M. Evans, Toronto; two brothers: William, of Ottawa, and Charles, of Oxbow, Sask.; three sons: Fred, at Barrie, Dudley, Toronto, and Will, at home; three daughters: Rhoda, Ruth and Maude, Mrs. Roy Wilson, all of Toronto.

The funeral was held at the late residence on Thursday of this week, Rev. J. W. Burton officiating. Interment was made in Aurora cemetery.

CHIEF TO CONTINUE CHECK ON SPEEDSTERS

"You can tell motorists for me that there will be no speeding in Aurora," Chief Fisher Dunham told The Era on Friday.

"I am having about 20 motorists summoned each week," the chief declared, and announced his determination of keeping up this practice until traffic was slowed down to a reasonable speed.

The town has taken the trouble to erect special, large signs at the town limits, drawing attention to the 30-mile per hour speed limit, in addition to the usual provincial highway signs, so there is little excuse for motorists ignoring the speed laws unintentionally, he said.

Batteries for Aurora were: Buck catching and Bone pitching. VanZant was on the receiving end for Newmarket with Webster hurling.

NORTH YORK DELEGATES MAKE PLANS AT AURORA MEETING

Oct. 16 will be election day for the federal parliament, if the plans made tentatively by the North York Conservative ward chairmen, on Wednesday evening of last week, have any bearing on the matter.

The meeting, well attended by delegates throughout the riding, was held in the Oddfellows' hall, Aurora. Ways and means of preparing for the next election were discussed and plans made for the annual meeting, for the purpose of finding a Conservative candidate for the riding.

Principal speaker of the evening was Joseph Harris, M.P., of Toronto east. He described the trade agreements made by the King government as being failures, and said the home markets should be developed for Canadian people.

The railway situation was explained by the speaker to the satisfaction of those present, it was reported.

Dr. S. J. Boyd, Newmarket, also spoke on organization of the riding. He strongly advised the youth of the riding to get out and help the candidate.

Clifford Case, Aurora, Dr. George Lockart, King, George Leary, Whitechurch, Major Alex. Mackenzie, Woodbridge, and Mrs. Frank Hope, Newmarket, also spoke briefly.

PAINTER GOES TO QUOTE ON TOWN CONTRACT; BUT FINDS OUTSIDER IS ALREADY AT WORK

"I called for applications on the job of painting the sign on the subway," Councillor A. J. Wilson, chairman of the property committee, told council on Monday night. "I personally called every painter in town whom I could locate. All that they showed was a great disinterest."

Mr. Wilson said that one quotation had been received for $35 and one for $20. The last named was from a transient painter, who got the job, commencing work on Saturday.

"Kenneth Forsythe should have been given time to quote," said Councillor John Stuart. "Mr. Forsythe said the job was already started when he went down to look at the subway and there was no use putting in a quotation."

Mr. Stuart protested that although he was also a member of the property committee, he had known nothing of the awarding of the contract. The matter should have been settled at the council table, he said.

TOURIST HOME HAS SAME WATER RATE AS SMALL APARTMENT, COUNCILLORS LEARN

Water rates gave the council trouble on Monday when they attempted to set a rate for two families in one house. They finally decided that the one charge, $2.25 quarterly, should cover the two families.

The by-law had been changed, Reeve J. A. Knowles said, to "get at" houses in which there were apartments, and which had previously paid only the rate for one service.

Instances were given, however, of a tourist home, containing three apartments, and advertising hot baths for tourists, which still pays only the single-service rate, and of six people, who occupied three apartments in a smaller house, who paid for three services.

"There is something wrong with the survey," Councillor Dr. E. J. Henderson said.

"I know houses the inspector was not near," said Councillor John Stuart.

"Six people in three apartments would not use more than the average family," said Councillor C. E. Sparks.

The matter, despite considerable discussion, remains "in the air," with no steps taken to straighten out any possible wrinkles in the by-law.

SNAPPY AURORANS LOSE CLOSE CONTEST

Coming from behind in the seventh inning, Newmarket Redmen squeezed an 8-7 victory over Aurora softball team at the Newmarket fair grounds on Friday evening.

The visiting Aurorans, under new management, started off with a bang and at the end of the second inning were leading by a 4-1 score. Not satisfied with their lead they continued on the offensive and coupled with a few errors by Newmarket the Redmen couldn't find themselves in the earlier part of the game but gradually came to life in the final three innings, tying the score and gaining a one-run lead in the seventh inning.

Harry Brammer, for Newmarket, hit a long fly to deep right in the third inning, with none on bases, to score a home-run.

The Aurora club, as a whole, played a much better brand of ball than is usually dished up by the southern neighbors. Their fielding was well above par and the batting left nothing to be desired, getting a number of safe bingles in between the infield and outfield.

The Newmarketers, on the other hand, were somewhat below par, making numerous errors in both the infield and outfield. The heavy-hitting artillery wasn't on hand at all, Bone, Aurora's pitcher, seeming to have the "Indian sign" on the Redshirt batter.

Batteries for Aurora were: Buck catching and Bone pitching. VanZant was on the receiving end for Newmarket with Webster hurling.

RICHMOND HILL LOOKS BAD AGAINST REJUVENATED AURORA TEAM

LOCALS HIT HEAVILY

The rejuvenated Aurora softball team, which came within an ace of beating Newmarket last week, came into its own in the Aurora park on Tuesday evening and pounded Stong and Bennett, top-flight Richmond Hill pitchers, for a total of ten runs.

And it might easily have been more, for on several occasions Aurora left the bases loaded when their third man went out.

Increased hitting power, coupled with the steady hurling of Bill Bone, who was given good support, combined to make the Hill squad look very weak, and they were lucky in getting their three runs.

The first Richmond Hill batter fanned, and the next two were victims of a double play. In their half of the first inning, Aurora got one run and had the bases loaded when the third out came.

In the second Richmond Hill scored when Echlin came home on Brown's two-bagger. Then came the Aurora hit-spread, Buck, Bone, White

SAVES YOUNGSTER AT MUSSELMAN'S

The storm of Sunday is the general topic of conversation. The earth needed a good soaking, and that with doublets more, than make up for the damage done in this deluge.

Everley church service was on,
and the peals of thunder and the vivid lightning seemed to strike very close. The congregation waited until the wall of water and the storm of hailstones—some as large as birds' eggs—subsided.

There is a path of wreckage more or less in the wake of the storm, but apparently it was worse in the Temperanceville area than on the third.

Mr. Lincoln Ferguson returned last week from a visit to the home of his cousins, Mr. and Mrs.
Thomas Burrows, of Stayner. It spoke well for the management of a farm when the boss can take a few days off in summer, between haymaking and wheat harvest.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddy and Miss Maud McIntosh (two sisters) from Toronto visited their cousin, Miss
A. A. Ferguson at "Scots Wm Hae" on Thursday evening. The visit was not in state but in the open garden and berry patch, and tongues wagged merrily as the deft hands transferred black currants and raspberries from the bushes to baskets and in the vegetable garden a choice of vegetables made a fine lead for the home going.

Mrs. Curried and her grandchildren, who have been spending two happy weeks with Miss Fisher, of King, have moved on to visit her brother, Mr. David Jenkins, in Toronto. On Wednesday her cousins, Mr. Jack Barnard and Miss Myra Barnard from Bradford and a cousin, Miss Showlor from England, visited her and had a happy time.

Leonard Shropshire, one of the Everley stalwarts, saved a lad from drowning in Musselman's Lake a week ago. The boy was going down for the third time when Leonard jumped in, fully dressed, grabbed him and brought him to shore. The details are vague, as Leonard is shy about telling of such things, but friends consider his heroic deed worthy of recognition. His Sunday clothes—what of them?

On Sunday, service was held in
J. C. Elliott's beautiful home by the Danish churches of Toronto and district. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bak, caretakers and landscaper gardeners, being of Danish birth, were host and hostess. The service was held in the club-house. Rev. W. V.
Bando, pastor of the Lutheran church on Wellesley St., Toronto, was in charge of the service, and representatives were there from Maple, Newmarket and wherever there are Lutheran churches in the district. One hundred or more were present, though double that number were expected. The severe storm doubtless prevented others from coming. The service was held during the afternoon.

for this social event is due to Mr.

of the pastorate of Rev. George Murray, who has been minister 157 new members received into the church, 127 baptisms, 44 weddings, 68 deaths. All organizations reported progress with efficiency. The success of the work was largely due to co-operation.

Nine years ago there was a debt of $1,200 with church property in need of repair and decoration and today that work has been done with no indebtedness, but good balances on hand.

leaf, vase, etc., from Ashworth,

CHRISTADELPHIANS

Does it matter what we believe? It matters a great deal if we are to accept the teaching of the Scriptures; and what other teaching is worthy of acceptance? It has pleased God to make salvation conditional on believing certain things.

spent must be sufficiently large and it must be expended within a comparatively short time. If that isn't done, the effect so far as business recovery is concerned will be small.

"Do you think that the U. S. government will give up some of its activities when business picks up?"

"If and when business recovery is sufficient, the government will withdraw to some extent but not to the extent of pre-depression. The scope of governmental regulation and governmental ownership will be greater than before the depression.

"It represents a departure from the old laissez-faire philosophy of the state. Under the old laissez-faire system it was assumed that each individual in seeking his own good would promote the welfare of everybody. Of course, under that belief the individual was the best judge of the welfare of others.

"With the growth of big business the possible discrepancy between individual interest on the one hand and social interests on the other has increased," said Prof. Dankert. "A big corporation might decide to do something which would be for its good but harmful to society. That has been one of the chief reasons why the state has become more positive."

"What is the consensus of opinion among university economists about the future? Do they think that the state will become completely socialized?"

"The great bulk of economists, while looking for an increasing amount of control, are opposed to complete control. While they regard an increase of government intervention as inevitable and desirable, they are nevertheless opposed to a completely planned economy."

"That would still leave some economists who would describe themselves as socialists?"

"Yes, there would be a minority left in favor of socialism and complete planning."

"Do you regard the co-operative movement and public ownership as opposed solutions of the economic problem?"

"The growth of the co-operative movement is modifying capitalism. It is a growth within the capitalistic system. The greater the growth the more is the so-called capitalistic system modified. The more the co-operative movement grows the less is likely to be the need for governmental interference. There is no need to supervise the quality of goods which people sell to themselves or the prices they charge, nor their issuance of securities.
